

Trendsetting tiles

Tiles remain a practical, durable flooring option. Now, Studio Ceramico at CTM offers an extensive range of designer styles to choose from.

Selecting the right tiles for your home is key to getting the look you want to create, and getting it wrong can be a costly mistake.

With this in mind CTM has expanded its range to now also bring you Studio Ceramico, a specialist studio dedicated to tile design. Studio Ceramico's research and design team is in touch with international standards and trends, so you can expect to see tiles in the latest shades and designs, including more enduring and timeless options.

Each tile range is carefully planned and beautifully presented, so finding your favourite look will be effortless. Catering to the most discerning decorator, Studio Ceramico lets you explore with confidence, knowing you'll choose a trendsetting tile, with all the trimmings to match.

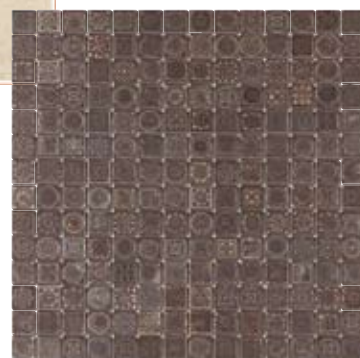

Inspired by sandstone, Studio Ceramico's natural Arena Range (pictured here) offers a neutral backdrop to complement everything from pristine whites to richer, more contrasted textures and colours. It has become a trusted interior design anchor which can easily blend in with personal décor styles, allowing you to create a unique look.

So go on and explore Studio Ceramico at your nearest CTM. After all, you're investing in lasting, premium quality.
